At a Supreme Court held at Philadelphia on Apr. 10-11, 1761, George Hess of York County was naturalized, having taken the Sacrament on Mar. 28, 1761.

- (d) From Pennsylvania Archives, Series 3 vol. 2 p. 223

Dec. 17, 1737 - Conrad Keesy enters a caveat against John Chapman and desires he may not be allowed to obtain any right to 200 acres adjoining land of Casper Wistar, in the Forks of Delaware, on the main road from Bethlehem to Maston, about 4 miles from Bethlehem. This land was settled by George Rumble & the improvement sold to said Conrad Keesy.

Geesey:

- (e) From the Register of Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, Pa. (Proceedings of the Pennsylvania German Society vol. 3 p. 223)

Maria Eva Geisse, dau. of Conrad & Susanna, born Mar 2, 1753, bapt. July 9.

- (f) From the Register of First Reformed Church, Lancaster, Pa. (same, vol. 4 page 261)

John Conrad Geise, son of Conrad & Mary Agatha, born July 12, 1750, bapt. Aug. 5.

Note:-

- (e) and (f) when considered along with my principal report on the Geesey families, page 2 Section V items 1 and 2 tend to vitiate the conclusion expressed in line 2 of Section XVII that your ancestor Conrad Geesey married one Susanna - and proves that there were two contemporaneous Conrad Geesey's (1) the husband of Susanna, who may not have lived here at all, even though Rev. Liscy did baptize one of his children, and (2) your ancestor, husband of Maria Agatha Wolf who lived until at least 1770, and afterwards of the widow Magdalena Schwartz. Section V item 1 is the only York County record, I believe, of Conrad & Susanna, and my belief is that he may have been only passing through the County. Judging from the surnames of the other children baptized on that date (May 24, 1752) I suspect that the baptism took place at Pottsville, some distance from York Township, the son of Conrad Geesey (2). The first record of Conrad (2) in York County seems to be Section I item 2 (the wife's name, being an unusual one, is badly mutilated), in 1754.

In re: Supplemental Report, Section II - There is evidence to show that Ulrich Soller and Mary Elizabeth his wife, at least, of this Geesey family, lived in York County at a later date. Perhaps her brothers also moved into York County and helped develop the present tangled maze of Geesey's.

I have found no naturalization records for the Geesey or Plinchbaugh progenitors. The estates of unnaturalized persons escheated to the Honorable the Proprietaries, whose policy was however to restore the same to the heirs. I wish I could learn whether the estate of Melchior Plinchbaugh went through the escheat and regrant process, just as a local example.

3. ----- Henry Kidd and Miss Elisabeth Keller, the latter of Baltimore County, [Maryland], were married by the Reverend [Henry] Doll. (York Republican, D 20, 1831; Gazette, D 20.)
4. F 20, 1826. Died after a painful illness, Miss Matilda Gitt, daughter of Jacob Gitt, of Manchester, Maryland; aged 16-3-5. (Hanover Intelligenzblatt, Mr 2, 1826.)
5. Mr 27, 1825. Dr. Wilhelm W. Gitt of Manchester, Maryland, and Miss Diana Moreland of Carlisle, daughter of David Moreland, deceased, were married by the Reverend Mr. Wiestling. (Hanover Intelligenzblatt, Mr 31, 1825.)
6. William Gitt departed this life suddenly at the residence of his son, in Conewago Township, Adams County, on Friday afternoon the 3d instant at the age of 98 years, 6 months, and 19 days. On Sunday morning last his mortal remains were consigned to the tomb, amidst a very large concourse of relatives and friends, on the cemetery of the Lutheran church in this place, on which occasion the Reverend Mr. Albert delivered the funeral sermon.

William Gitt was one of the oldest persons in this neighborhood, and perhaps in the two counties. He was born in a Cottage in the Pigeon Hills about four miles from Hanover, then part of Lancaster County. His parents, James Gitt and his wife, were both emigrants from Ireland. He perfectly recollected the time when the ground now occupied by the Borough of Hanover was the dense and primeval Forest, and the neighborhood yet the home of some of the remaining Redmen. His was a remarkably retentive memory, and some ten or twelve years back, it was an agreeable treat to listen to his description of the daring and turbulent scenes and adventures of the early settlers, with all of whom he was acquainted, having filled the office of Constable under his Britanic Majesty's Justices of the Peace, under the Colonial government for years, after Hanover no longer a "town of Refuge", or in the language of the day, "Rogues Harbor", was discovered to be in Pennsylvania and subject to her laws, and also afterwards during the Revolution and again after the War of Independence.

He left five sons, all now living, the youngest in his fiftieth year, who all attended his funeral, besides a number of grandchildren. His descendants, including grand and great grand children, amount to seventy now living.

XIV MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

O.C.D. *E142 D 4, 1783. William Bailey, Esquire, High Sheriff of York County reports on an inquest of 184 acres of land late the possession of Conrad Maul the Elder, deceased intestate, also of a tract of 98 acres, both tracts situate in Menhela Township, that the above will not admit of partition; and sets the value of the same undivided as respectively £390 and £50. Philip Maul, eldest son and heir at law prays to be permitted to take both tracts at the combined valuation of £440. Court so orders and details the payments to the following heirs: Catharine Maul widow of said deceased, Philip (the petitioner), Catharine wife of John Joseph, Dorothea wife of Peter Kitt, Susanna wife of Jacob Stover, Conrad, Peter, Jacob, and Elizabeth.

[From History of Adams County (Bradsby-Sheely-Leeson, 1886), p.494.]

"...one James Gitt, with his wife Mary Magdalena, came to this country, he from Ireland and his wife from Fermany, about the year 1740, and settled in the "Pidgeon Hills", near Hanover. His memory was a most retentive one, and to him his descendants are indebted for many reminiscences. The red man still occupied the land, and the site of Hanover was still a primeval forest. At that date he was a constable in the service of his Brittanio Majesty. Hanover was controlled by the British, and the town in its early settlement was known as a "town of refuge" or "rogues' harbor". William, their only son, was born in a cabin among the hills, October 15, 1746. Five years later his parents came to Hanover, and the father disappeared and was never heard from. His son purchased a farm in Adams County, and was there married to Magdalena, who was born November 13, 1757, and died October 14, 1826. Mary, the wife of James Gitt, was born September 27, 1720, [died July 23, 1823], and lived to the remarkable age of 103 years. William and Magdalena Gitt were the parents of Jacob, George, Henry, William, and Daniel, and left seventy grandchildren and greatgrandchildren to represent them. William and Magdalena died on the farm of Daniel Gitt, in Adams County, he [May 3, 1844] at the age of ninety-eight years, she when upwards of eighty years."
